Pervertigo: "Sick People are Capable of Terrible Things" Indy premiere one night only: Film by award-winning Indiana filmmaker

December 18, 2013 - Indianapolis, IN - Flash Bulb Pictures will host the Indianapolis premiere of a riveting feature film written & directed by Indianapolis native Jaron Henrie-McCrea. The film was shot entirely in Indianapolis, including scenes in downtown Indy, Broad Ripple, Holliday Park and the historic Rivoli Theatre. Pervertigo has been an official selection at film festivals in Budapest, Warsaw, Mumbai and Hawaii. This film will screen for the first time in the continental US.

WHEN: January 10, 2014 6pm - Cocktail hour 7pm - Screening of Pervertigo 8:30pm - Q & A session

WHERE: IMAX Theater, Indiana State Museum, 650 W. Washington Street, Indianapolis, IN 46204

SYNOPSIS:

Lloyd, a lonely Peeping Tom, is propositioned to murder a woman. Armed with a hammer, he sets about the grisly deed, only to discover that his mark is a Peeping Tom herself. Soon they begin to fall in love and decide to turn the tables on her husband who wanted her killed. But can a messed up pervert like Lloyd make off with the money and the girl?

"This is a modern story. We've taken a classic film noir formula - a man who wants to kill his wife - and put it in an absurdist comedy," says Henrie-McCrea.

The film stars Martin Monahan as Lloyd. Monahan is a Ball State graduate and Indiana native, and founded Strangeloop Theatre Company in Chicago. He has acted in numerous productions, and Pervertigo is his first feature film. Monahan and Henrie-McCrea, along with other cast/crew from the film, will be in attendance.
